Nixon First U.S. President To Attend Mother of Parliament

LONDON (AP) — President Richard Nixon flew to London today to attend the opening of the British Parliament, the first time a U.S. president has done so. The visit is significant because it demonstrates the thaw in relations between the two countries. Nixon had a private meeting with Queen Elizabeth II. The trip will include a tour of the Houses of Parliament and a meeting with Prime Minister Harold Wilson. This is Nixon's first trip outside of the United States since taking office.

Soviet Bloc Boycotts U.N. Aid Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly, which is meeting for the 31st session, has rejected the U.S. proposal to provide $10 million in aid to the Soviet bloc countries. The Soviet bloc states have boycotted the meeting, saying that the aid money is being used to undermine the bloc's sovereignty. The Low Wage Competition Hurts Industries

There has been much gambling of teeth about the determination of the future of the American economy, but there has been little action by government or business. It is in the balance. It is going to the balance.

In recent years, there has been much attention given to inflation, but is it that simple? The German automaker who can sell his goods at a lower price, and thereby stretch his dollar further, is going to have to pay a higher price for raw materials. The consumer can only pay a higher price for raw materials if he is able to hold his price on his output. The consumer can only hold his price on his output if he is able to hold his price on his output. The consumer can only hold his price on his output if he is able to hold his price on his output.

Germany is Economic Giant Caught in Transatlantic Tangle

By George Thompson

Associated Press Writer

Heavily involved in the struggle against the specter of communism in Europe, President Nixon will see an opportunity to press ahead with his efforts to improve relations with the People's Republic of China when he visits Peking Wednesday and Thursday.

However, the country of 420 million people proudly claiming to be the world's industrial nation after the United States is a delicate mixture of ancient and modern life. The West German economy outstrips that of Japan, but it is still the third largest exporter of industrial goods, following the United States and Japan. Its exports rank seventh in the world, totaling $13.9 billion in 1969.

It is the third largest exporter of industrial goods, following the United States and Japan. Its exports rank seventh in the world, totaling $13.9 billion in 1969.

Nixon is expected to make a major effort to persuade George of the role Germany can play in the transatlantic tangle.

The United States proposes and the Soviet Union opposed the decision to grant full recognition to the People's Republic of China.

Bonn leaders see hope of a new era in relations with Washington, but they also have their misgivings. The Associated Press said Wednesday that the United States should provide a guarantee that the People's Republic of China cannot be used to further the spread of communism.

While the administration made clear it wanted full recognition, President Nixon has so far taken no public stand.

Aid to emerge from World War II, West Germany is now the second largest importer of industrial goods, ranks with 460,000 men under arms.

He will find a willing listener, however, in Willy Brandt, the West German policies. He will find a willing listener, however, in Willy Brandt, the prime minister, who has been a strong advocate of better relations between the United States and the People's Republic of China.

Private Eye Circrosses
U.S. in Effort to Save Sirhan

By Lois Deborah

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A private eye is waging a one-man battle to save Sirhan Sirhan from the electric chair.

The eye, Don Storrs, has been following the story of the man accused of assassinating Sen.
Robert F. Kennedy since the day he was charged in March 1968.

Storrs, a former federal investigator, is now working full-time on the case.

He has been searching the entire country for people who know Sirhan and who might be able to help his defense.

"I'm not sure exactly how much time I've spent on the case, but I've been working on it full time," Storrs said.

"I've been checking every lead I've found, and I'm not sure I've had much success,
but I'm not giving up.

"I've been working with a lot of people, including lawyers, detectives, and friends.

"I've been trying to figure out what happened on the night of the assassination.

"I'm not sure exactly what I've been up to, but I've been working on this case for a while now."
