World War II Casualties

9-14-1945

Jay L. Frink

Follow this and additional works at: https://openspaces.unk.edu/wwii-casualties
T-Sgt. Jay L. Frink Dies in Houston of a Heart Condition

T/Sgt. Jay L. Frink, 26, husband of Betty Jo (Danner) Frink, 710 West 25th, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frink, Gibbon, died Friday night, Sept. 14, at Brooke general hospital, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. Sergeant Frink arrived in the United States Aug. 5 from Manila where he had been in the hospital since June 9 with a serious heart condition.

The mother and wife met him immediately at Brooke general hospital, his mother staying ten days and his wife remaining. His condition had been improving considerably. Sergeant Frink’s parents had been summoned but were unable to reach San Antonio before his death. A sister, Mrs. Thomas Greenfield, also survives.

Sergeant Frink had been in the Pacific a year and a half. He graduated from Gibbon high school, attended Kearney Teachers college and University of Nebraska.

The body is being returned to the Miller-Godberson funeral home, Gibbon, accompanied by Sgt. Richard Waldinger, a personal friend. Military funeral rites will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.